INVESTMENT RETURNS, NET ASSET VALUE (NAV) AND COMMON SHARE MARKET PRICE WILL FLUCTUATE AND TRUST SHARES, WHEN SOLD, MAY BE WORTH MORE OR LESS THAN THEIR ORIGINAL COST.

NAV per share is determined by dividing the value of the trust's portfolio securities, cash and other assets, less all liabilities, and preferred shares, by the total number of common shares outstanding. The common share market price is the price the market is willing to pay for shares of the trust at a given time. Common share market price is influenced by a range of factors, including supply and demand and market conditions. Total return assumes an investment at the beginning of the period, reinvestment of all distributions for the period in accordance with the trust's dividend reinvestment plan, and sale of all shares at the end of the period.

The Lehman Brothers Pennsylvania Municipal Bond Index is a broad-based statistical composite of Pennsylvania municipal bonds. The index is unmanaged and does not include any sales charges or fees. Such costs would lower performance. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Trust Report

FOR THE SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED APRIL 30, 2006

MARKET CONDITIONS

The economy continued to grow during the six-month period ended April 30, 2006, demonstrating some resiliency in the face of rising oil and other commodity prices, the Gulf Coast hurricanes, and emerging weakness in the housing market. This expansion was more modest in the final months of 2005, but gained considerable momentum in the first quarter.

Against the backdrop of growth and good employment data, the Federal Open Market Committee (the "Fed") continued raising the federal funds target rate during the period, implementing four additional increases of 25 basis points each. These moves brought the target rate to 4.75 percent. The final hike of the period represented the fifteenth consecutive increase--the longest stretch of increases in 25 years. As the period came to a close, market observers speculated about the Fed's near-term intentions, given the central bank's view that although longer-term inflation currently appeared contained, commodity prices could amplify inflationary pressures.

Returns across the municipal bond market varied significantly. As investors sought income opportunities, lower rated bonds outpaced investment-grade bonds by a wide margin. Long-term bonds earned the best returns, broadly speaking, while bonds in the three-to-seven year range posted the most muted gains.

Municipal bond issuance was robust during the final months of 2005. (In fact, 2005 marked a record high for municipal bond volume.) The tide changed in 2006, however. As rising rates discouraged issuers from refinancing debt, national municipal issuance dropped by approximately 25 percent in the first four months of the year versus the same period in 2005. While supply ebbed, the market's appetite for municipal bonds remained strong, with particularly heavy demand from high yield municipal bond funds.

Within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, issuance did not drop as sharply as the national average in 2006. Higher education and school district bonds were particularly well represented in the state's bond market. Pennsylvania has enjoyed good economic recovery trends, including recent growth in job creation. Growth in personal income tax revenues has also been strong. However, Medicaid spending continues to be a concern, and an economic stimulus package is expected to drive the state's debt level considerably higher.

PERFORMANCE ANALYSIS

The trust's return can be calculated based upon either the market price or the net asset value (NAV) of its shares. NAV per share is determined by dividing the value of the trust's portfolio securities, cash and other assets, less all liabilities and preferred shares, by the total number of common shares outstanding, while market price reflects the supply and demand for the shares. As a result, the two returns can differ, as they did during the reporting period. On an NAV basis and on a market price basis, the trust underperformed its benchmark index, the Lehman Brothers Pennsylvania Municipal Bond Index.

Performance data quoted represents past performance, which is no guarantee of future results, and current performance may be lower or higher than the figures shown. Investment return, net asset value and common share market price will fluctuate and trust shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. See Performance Summary for additional performance information and index definition.

The trust uses leverage to enhance its dividend to common shareholders. The trust borrows money at short-term rates through the issuance of preferred shares. The proceeds are reinvested in longer-term securities, taking advantage of the difference between short- and longer-term rates. The Fed's policy of raising interest rates throughout the period made the trust's borrowing activity more expensive, which reduced the benefits of the trust's leverage activities.

Throughout the period, we managed the trust according to a long-term "buy and hold" discipline anchored by rigorous research. We sought high quality bonds with attractive return potential and good liquidity. (Liquid securities are those for which there is a robust market of purchasers and sellers.)

The trust maintained a high credit quality, with nearly 80 percent of bonds rated AA or higher as of April 30, 2006. While adhering to our quality-driven discipline, we sought opportunities to enhance the portfolio's yield. For example, we boosted the trust's stake in BBB rated tobacco revenue bonds. Our decision to increase tobacco bond exposure reflected our analytical findings of strong tobacco industry fundamentals and an improving litigation environment. We also added inverse floating rate securities.

The trust benefited from its emphasis on bonds with long maturities, as this segment of the market outperformed overall. Our sales focused on bonds with shorter maturities, generally those with maturities of 10 years or less, including pre-refunded bonds. We invested these assets, along with proceeds from bonds which were called by their issuers, in longer-term issues. These purchases reflected our preferences for bonds with maturities of 20 years and longer, and defensive structures.

Additionally, reflecting the view that interest rates would continue to rise, with longer-term rates advancing less rapidly, we kept the trust's duration shorter than its benchmark's. (Duration is a measure of interest rate sensitivity.) This posture proved advantageous during the period.

The trust's portfolio was well-represented across the major sectors of the municipal bond market, with a focus on essential services. Higher education, general purpose, hospital, public education and water and sewer represented the largest sector weightings as of the close of the period.

During the reporting period, Van Kampen Pennsylvania Quality Municipal Trust, Trust for Investment Grade Pennsylvania and Van Kampen Advantage Pennsylvania Municipal Income Trust were merged into Van Kampen Pennsylvania Value Municipal Income Trust.

VPV's procedure for reinvesting all dividends and distributions in common shares is through purchases in the open market. This method helps support the market value of the Trust's shares. In addition, we would like to remind you that the Trustees have approved a procedure whereby the Trust may, when appropriate, purchase shares in the open market or in privately negotiated transactions at a price not above market value or net asset value, whichever is lower at the time of purchase.

There is no guarantee that any sectors mentioned will continue to perform as discussed herein or that securities in such sectors will be held by the trust in the future.

VAN KAMPEN PENNSYLVANIA VALUE MUNICIPAL INCOME TRUST

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS -- APRIL 30, 2006 (UNAUDITED)

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Van Kampen Pennsylvania Value Municipal Income Trust (the "Trust") is registered as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"), as amended. The Trust's investment objective is to seek to provide a high level of current income exempt from federal and Pennsylvania income taxes and, where possible under local law, local income and personal property taxes, consistent with preservation of capital. The Trust will invest substantially all of its assets in Pennsylvania municipal securities rated investment grade at the time of investment, but may invest up to 20% of its assets in unrated securities which are believed to be of comparable quality to those rated investment grade. The Trust commenced investment operations on April 30, 1993.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Trust in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A. SECURITY VALUATION Municipal bonds are valued by independent pricing services or dealers using the mean of the bid and asked prices or, in the absence of market quotations, at fair value based upon yield data relating to municipal bonds with similar characteristics and general market conditions. Securities which are not valued by independent pricing services or dealers are valued at fair value using procedures established in good faith by the Board of Trustees. Futures contracts are valued at the settlement price established each day on the exchange on which they are traded. Short-term securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

B. SECURITY TRANSACTIONS Security transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains and losses are determined on an identified cost basis. The Trust may purchase and sell securities on a "when-issued" or "delayed delivery" basis, with settlement to occur at a later date. The value of the security so purchased is subject to market fluctuations during this period. The Trust will segregate assets with the custodian having an aggregate value at least equal to the amount of the when-issued or delayed delivery purchase commitments until payment is made. As of April 30, 2006, the Trust had $8,747,651 of when-issued and delayed delivery purchase commitments.

C. INVESTMENT INCOME Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Bond premium is amortized and discount is accreted over the expected life of each applicable security.

D. FEDERAL INCOME TAXES It is the Trust's policy to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes is required.

Services provided pursuant to the Legal Services agreement are reported as part of "Legal" expenses on the Statement of Operations. Services provided pursuant to the Accounting Services and CCO Employment agreement are reported as part of "Other" expenses on the Statement of Operations.

Certain officers and trustees of the Trust are also officers and directors of Van Kampen. The Trust does not compensate its officers or trustees who are also officers of Van Kampen.

The Trust provides deferred compensation and retirement plans for its trustees who are not officers of Van Kampen. Under the deferred compensation plan, trustees may elect to defer all or a portion of their compensation to a later date. Benefits under the retirement plan are payable upon retirement for a ten-year period and are based upon each trustee's years of service to the Trust. The maximum annual benefit per trustee under the plan is $2,500.

On December 2, 2005, the Trust acquired all of the assets and liabilities of the Van Kampen Advantage Pennsylvania Municipal Income Trust (ticker symbol VAP), Pennsylvania Quality Municipal Income Trust (ticker symbol VPQ) and Trust for Investment Grade Pennsylvania Municipalities (ticker symbol VTP) through a tax free reorganization approved by VAP, VPQ and VTP Trust shareholders on November 22, 2005. Shares issued in connection with this reorganization are included in proceeds from shares sold for the six months ended April 30, 2006. Combined net assets applicable to common shares on the day of reorganization were $388,563,174 and net assets including preferred shares were $608,563,174. The Trust incurred merger expenses of $320,746, which represent costs related to the preparation, printing, and distribution of the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, Reorganization Agreement and registration statements as well as legal, audit, and filing fees.

4. INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS

During the period, the cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investments, excluding short-term investments, were $79,797,423 and $68,051,298, respectively.

5. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

A derivative financial instrument in very general terms refers to a security whose value is "derived" from the value of an underlying asset, reference rate or index.

In order to seek to manage the interest rate exposure of the Trust's portfolio in a changing interest rate environment, the Trust may purchase or sell financial futures contracts or engage in transactions involving interest rate swaps, caps, floors or collars. The Trust expects to enter into these transactions primarily as a hedge against anticipated interest rate or fixed income market changes, for duration management or for risk management purposes, but may also enter into these transactions to generate additional income. All of the Trust's portfolio holdings, including derivative instruments, are marked to market each day with the change in value reflected in the unrealized appreciation/depreciation. Upon disposition, a realized gain or loss is recognized accordingly, except when taking delivery of a security underlying a futures contract. In this instance, the recognition of gain or loss is postponed until the disposal of the security underlying the futures contract.

Summarized below are the specific types of derivative financial instruments used by the Trust.

A. FUTURES CONTRACTS A futures contract is an arrangement involving the delivery of a particular asset on a specified future date at an agreed upon price. The Trust generally invests in exchange traded futures contracts on U.S. Treasury securities and typically closes the contract prior to the delivery date. These contracts are generally used to manage the Trust's effective maturity and duration. Upon entering into futures contracts, the Trust maintains an amount of cash or liquid securities with a value equal to a percentage of the contract amount with either a futures commission merchant pursuant to the rules and regulations promulgated under the 1940 Act, as amended, or with its custodian in an account in the broker's name. This amount is known as initial margin. During the period the futures contract is open, payments are received from or made to the broker based upon changes in the value of the contract (the variation margin). The risk of loss associated with a futures contract is in excess of the variation margin reflected on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

B. INTEREST RATE SWAPS The Trust may enter into interest rate swaps primarily to preserve a return or spread on a particular investment or portion of its portfolio, as a duration management technique or to protect against any increase in the price of securities the Trust anticipates purchasing at a later date. Interest rate swaps are contractual agreements to exchange periodic interest payment streams calculated on a predetermined notional principal amount. Interest rate swaps generally involve one party paying a fixed interest rate and the other party paying a variable rate. The Trust will usually enter into swaps on a net basis, i.e., the two payment streams are netted out in a cash settlement on the payment date or dates specified in the instrument, with the Trust receiving or paying, as the case may be, only the net amount of the two payments. The Trust accrues the net amount with respect to each swap on a daily basis. This net amount is recorded within unrealized appreciation/depreciation on swap contracts. Upon cash settlement of the periodic payments, the net amount is recorded as realized gain/loss on swap contracts on the Statement of Operations. Risks may arise as a result of the potential inability of the counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts. If there is a default by the counterparty, the Trust will have contractual remedies pursuant to the agreements related to the transaction.

C. INDEXED SECURITIES The Trust invests in indexed securities. These instruments are identified in the Portfolio of Investments. The price of these securities may be more volatile than the price of a comparable fixed rate security.

An inverse floating rate security is one where the coupon is inversely indexed to a short-term floating interest rate multiplied by a specific factor. As the floating rate rises, the coupon is reduced. Conversely, as the floating rate declines, the coupon is increased. These instruments are typically used by the Trust to enhance the yield of the portfolio.

6. PREFERRED SHARES

As of April 30, 2006, the Trust has outstanding 8,800 APS. Series A contains 1,800 shares, Series B contains 1,600 shares, Series C contains 2,600 shares, and Series D contains 2,800 shares. Dividends are cumulative and the dividend rates are generally reset every 7 days for Series A, while Series B, Series C, and Series D are generally reset every 28 days through an auction process. The average rate in effect on April 30, 2006 was 3.540%. During the six months ended April 30, 2006, the rates ranged from 2.680% to 5.250%.
